The diagram illustrates the navigation structure of a website. It starts with a main menu labeled "Pull-down menus" (308). This menu branches into eight sub-items: "Site Index" (304), "Product" (370), "Product Code" (372), "Product Photograph" (374), "Product Written Description" (376), "Further Information" (378), "Order Product" (382), and "Print" (380). Each sub-item is represented by a rectangular box, and the entire structure is enclosed in a larger rectangular frame.
